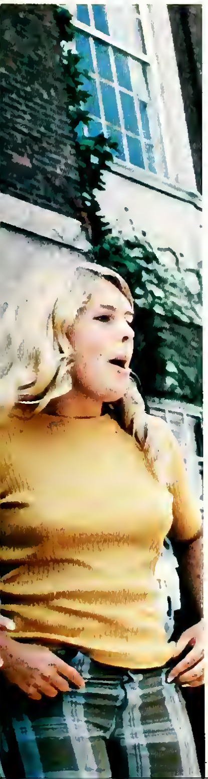
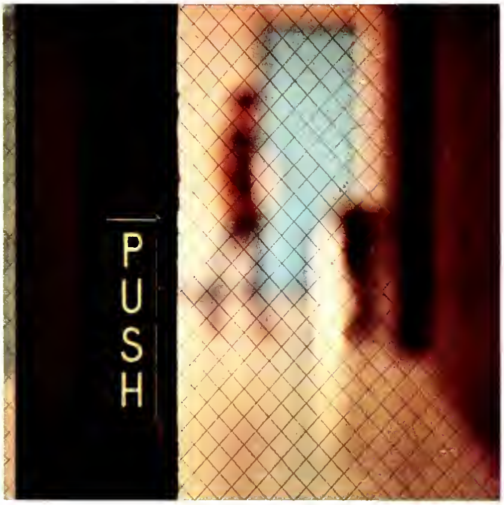
August came and we were here. A new year was ours and it, like us, was a fresh slate upon which to write. We were both like the "tabula rasa" of the philosophers.

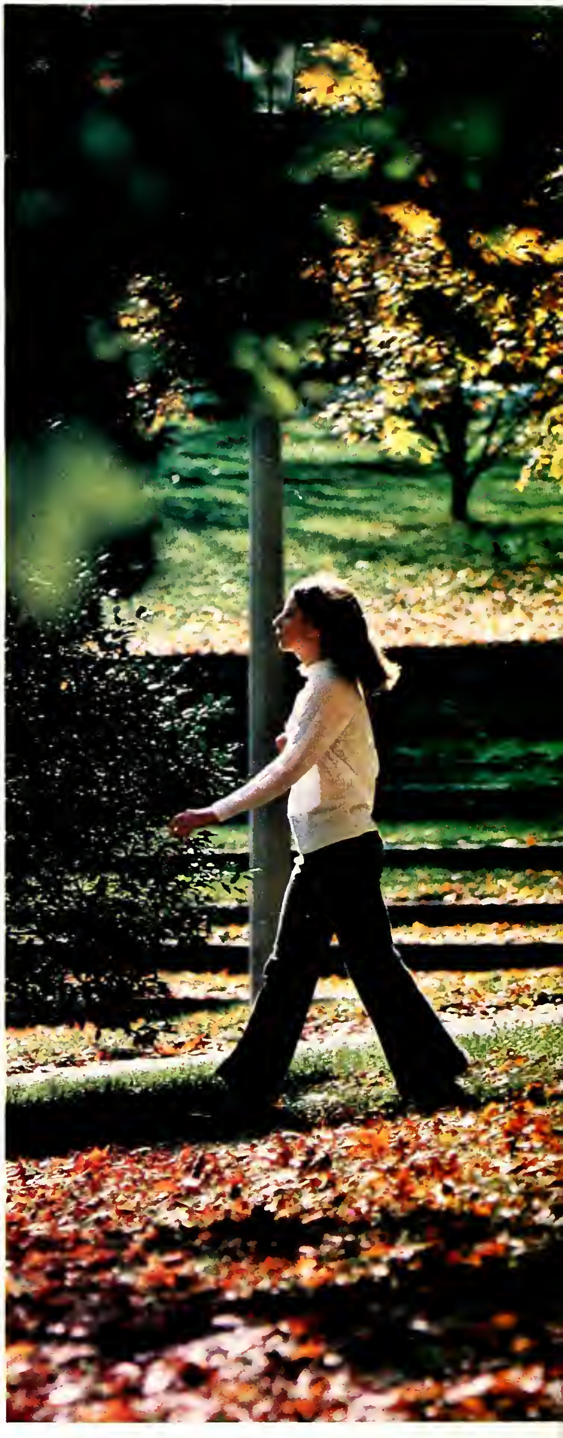
What we seemed to possess in the most abundant quantities was our idealism. "Something must be done," we said, almost collectively, about pollution, war, population, social ills and other critical issues.

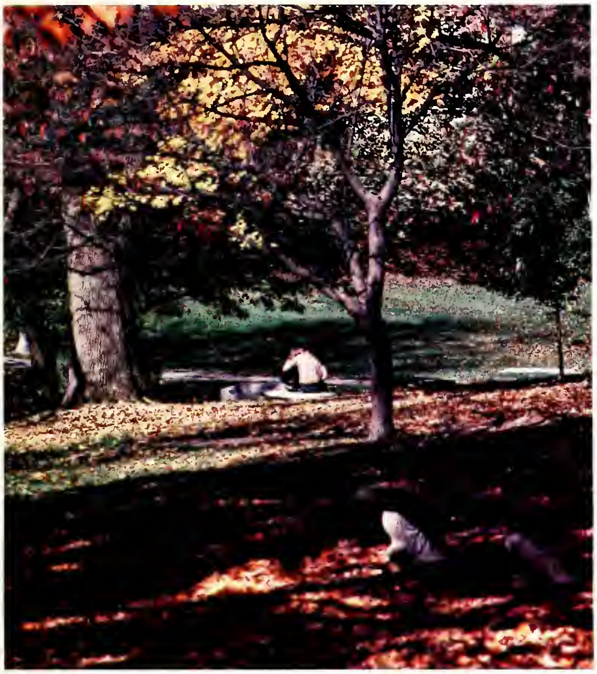
It was good that our awakening came at a time when we were motivated to begin searching for answers to deep-rooted problems; perhaps the only time in our lives when we could call upon so much knowledge, both human and stored, in our impatient quest for solutions.



Determined to record our influence upon the times, we ran, face to face, into our own inexperience. For all our idealism, we were malleable. We reached out for direction. The University became our blacksmith.







We were molded, stretched, and hammered into a form fashioned to help us meet our own personal commitment. Our very presence at Eastern indicated our faith in the future and our promise to meet challenges facing us.

The University gave us direction. We became involved in varied educational experiences. Eastern responded to meet our needs with a growing physical plant, a more diversified curriculum, and a learned faculty.

The beauty of the campus and the academic society which it houses furthered our realization of our commitment to the future of a world which stands in marked contrast to the sheltered life within the University. Eastern was our hurricane's eye and within it we could develop our concepts free from outside pressures.

Many of us realized that a college education comes from more than going to classes, writing papers, and spending countless hours in the library. It is also a reaction between people nurtured by the atmosphere created by the University.

We reached out and grasped the challenge. Our interactions with others became formative forces as we moved toward an awareness that the growing demands of the future would be ours to meet. Only with a definite direction could we ever hope to meet this challenge.

All the elements at work combined to forge commitments that varied in intensity and direction.

THE PAST IS EXPERIENCE
THE FUTURE IS
GETTING FROM ONE TO THE OTHER THE BEST WAY WE CAN

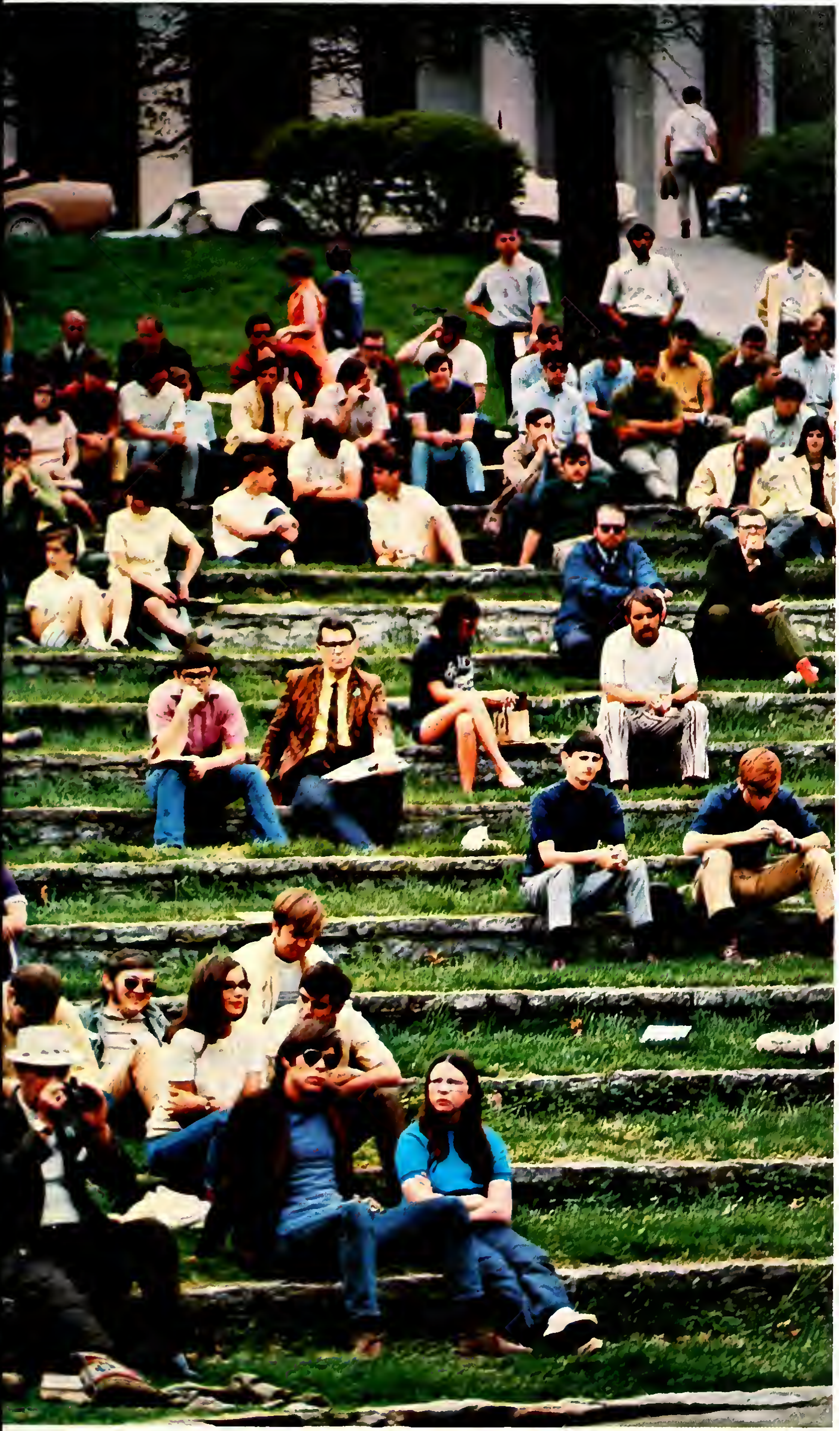
While some focused on crucial issues, others acquiesced in apathy and trivia, consuming what could have been productive moments.



Then, in a pompous flurry of activity, we ended our days in the ivory tower. The worth of our commitment, direction, and preparation would be measured by history.

Calendar Brings Early Return

Adoption of a new academic calendar beckoned Eastern's student body back to campus as early as August 26. Although the dates were changed, the incoming freshmen did not escape the traditional events of Orientation Week and early fall, including the embarrassment of Rat Court, the antics of the Powder Puff football game and the Sigma Chi Derby.

The first ordeal of the school year, carrying mountains of clothes, is met by one of Eastern's 9,602 fall semester students.

More Than 9,600 Register For Fall

When registration for the first semester ended, the last student through the line pushed the fall enrollment figure to 9,602.

The registration total was 62 students less than the year before; a fact creditable to the new draft lottery, an abatement of the influx of students from the post WWII baby boom, and a general cool down of the economy.

Registration was the same as always, with two minor exceptions. Due to the new academic calendar, it was completed about three weeks earlier than normal; and a few hundred incoming freshmen had registered early in the summer. The success of the registration made an expansion of the system a certainty for the future.

Early in the year, classes are marked by rapt attention and the conscientious taking of notes.

'Musical Dorms' Played By Coeds

The year-in-year-out routine of dormitory life was enlivened this year with the inception of what could be called "musical dormitories."

Keith Hall, which had served as a men's residence since its construction more than a decade ago, was converted to a women's dormitory for the fall semester due to a change in the male-female student ratio. During the spring semester, with Burnam undergoing a renovation, Combs, Miller, Beckham and McCreary halls joined Keith as "men's" dorms being occupied by coeds.

A concerted effort was made during the year for more dormitory-centered activities.

Whether they were constructed as men's or women's halls, all of Eastern's dormitories continued to serve as part of the total educational experience. The lessons learned through living and working together were often as constructive as those of the classroom.

Right: Dorms offer an opportunity for relaxed "cutting up". Below: The telephone provides a necessary link with the world outside the dorm. Below right: A coed carries her belongings into Earle Combs Hall at the start of the second semester. Governor Nunn Heads Begley Dedication

The attention of national leaders in physical education, law enforcement, military, and athletics focused on Eastern late in September with the dedication of the Robert B. Begley Building.

A multi-purpose structure, the Begley Building opened, housing the headquarters for EKU's School of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics, the School of Law Enforcement, and the Department of Military Science. As an athletic facility, it was designed to seat 20,000 football fans to watch the Colonels in action on Hanger Field.

Wide Curriculum Serves Students

Eastern students enrolled in 137 different major degree programs during the 1970-71 year. The academic offering, largest in EKU history, included more than 100 programs that did not exist at Eastern just ten years ago.

Students patrticipated in 24 associate, 61 baccalaureate, 44 masters, seven specialist degree programs and in the joint doctoral program.

Approved to be added to this academic potpouri were 11 new programs that will be offered during the 1971 fall term.

The Extended Arm: A Universal Symbol . . .

"Body Language" was the name of a best-selling book during the year, but the arm and its language of signals could well deserve a volume all its own.

Just the simple act of extending the arm over the head has myriad applications, all with different symbolism. Whether the signal of an official starting an athletic contest, a fan signaling his favorite team, an individual indicating power for his cause, a questioning student or a conductor drawing musical artistry, the outstretched arm is as important a communicative tool as the spoken word.

. . . With Diverse Interpretations

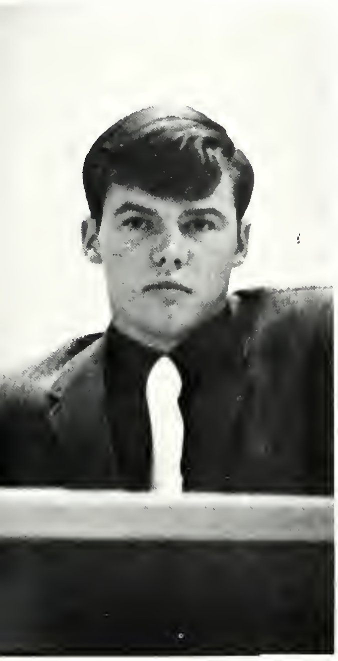
Critical Issues Come Into Focus



The Eastern campus provided a sheltered environment where the critical issues of the day could be examined in a rational manner without pressure and coercion.

Both on-campus and universal issues came into focus during the year. Included in the former was the question of mandatory ROTC and women's dormitory hours, both the subjects of student forums and student-faculty committee study. Pollution, the war, drug abuse and the problems of governmental agencies at all levels also came under the examination of students and the entire University Community.

Autumn Spectaculars Stir Campus to Life

At the first leaves of fall blanketed the campus, Eastern had an outward appearance of slumber. However, the peaceful atmosphere belied the outburst of activity which accompanied autumn to the campus.

Band Day Explodes With Color, Sound

The first major football season production brought more than 5,000 high school band members to Richmond and Eastern for the annual kaleidoscope of color and sound that is Band Day.

A downtown parade, a rehearsal and a picnic lunch led to the always stirring massed band halftime show.

Homecoming Says 'You've Read It In The Paper'

Homecoming '71, sporting a "You've Read it in the Paper" theme, began with the chores of float building and ended with a 17-7 football victory over visiting Murray.

Among Homecoming weekend's major activities were a Friday night dance to the music of the Sirs in Brass; and a post-game concert by the Friends of Distinction.

Peggy Cotten, a sophomore from Springfield, Ohio, was selected Homecoming Queen from among 15 elected finalists. She was crowned in pregame ceremonies before a crowd of 22,500.

Lectures, Concerts Provide Diversion

A variety of cultural presentations provided self-improvement diversions throughout the academic year.

The Garvice Kincaid Lecture, the Community Concert Series, University Theatre productions, art exhibits, and the University Center Board lecture-concert series combined to offer a year-round program for Eastern's students, faculty, staff and members of the Richmond community.

Even In The Midst of Crowds . . .

When nearly 10,000 people are impacted into a relatively compact area, the individual is faced with the problem of maintaining identity.

Eastern was no different this year. A new stadium made the crowds even larger and sometimes the elements forced humanity closer together. Classes and campus sidewalks reinforced the feeling that the student was no longer just himself, but part of the larger impersonal whole. But for the person who looked beneath the surface, there was always the opportunity to be physically alone, or to maintain individuality through individual expression and reflection.

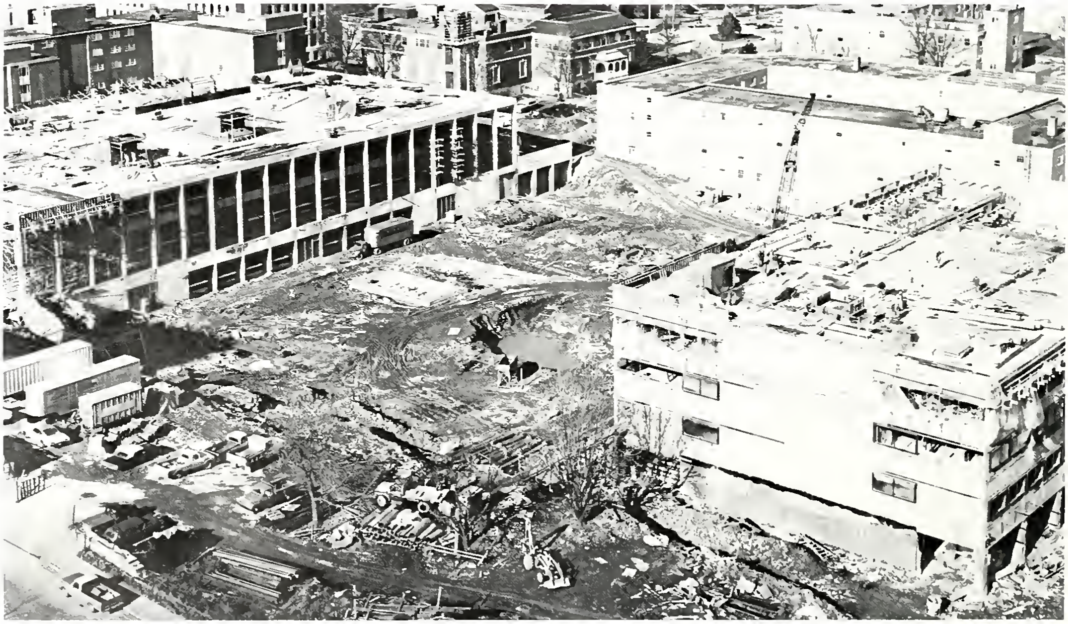
. . . There Is Still Room For The Individual

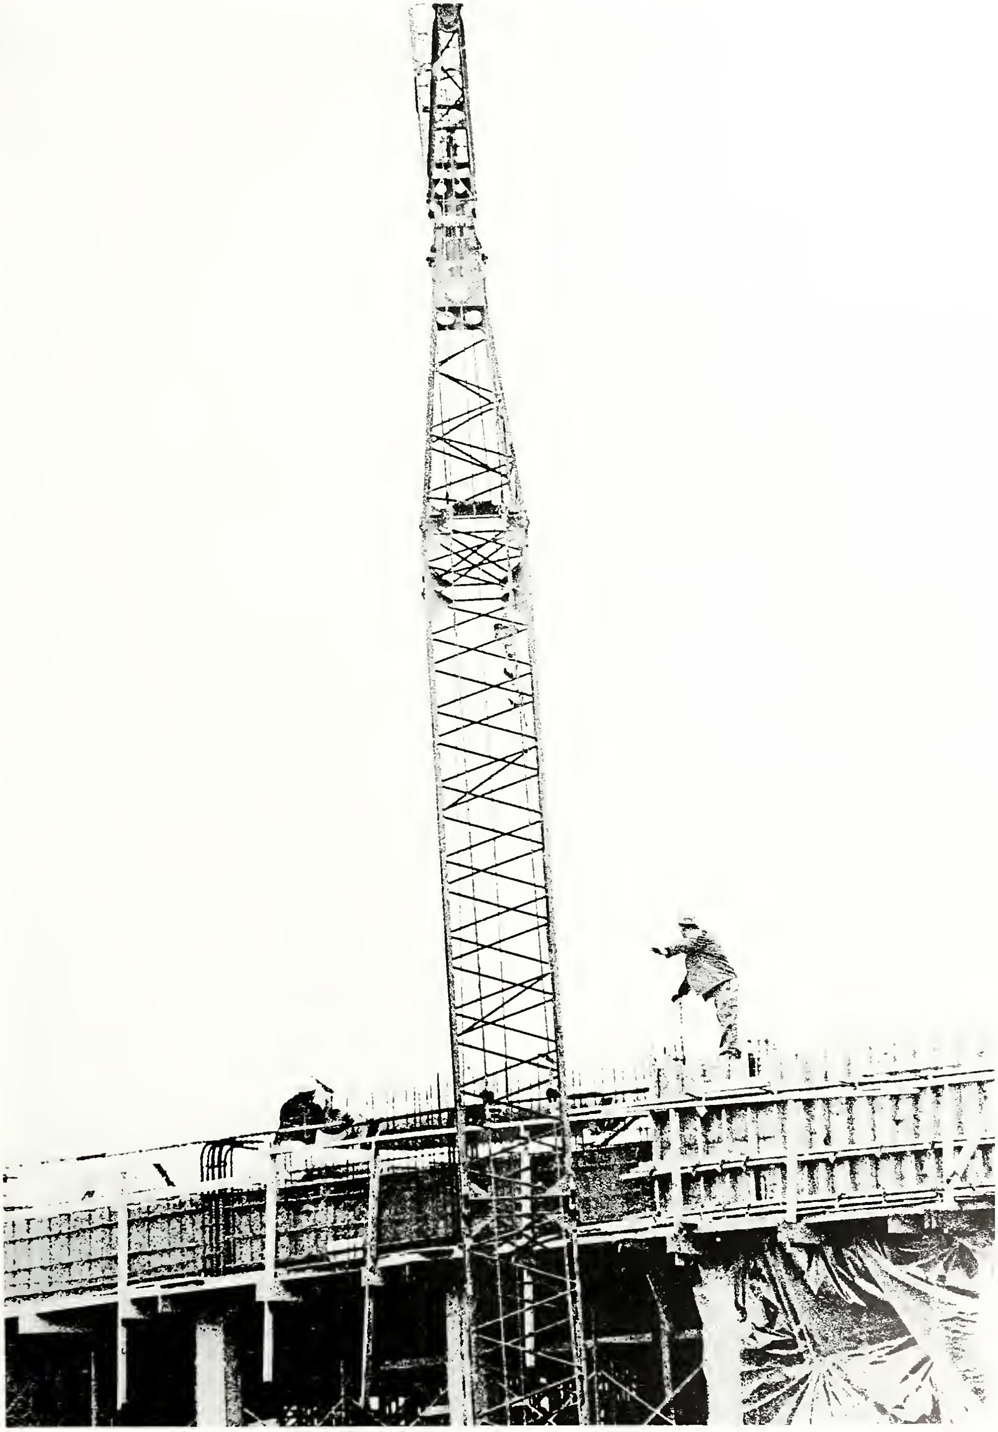
Building Present, But Centralized

To the seasoned observer of Eastern, and to upperclassmen, the construction activity this year seemed misleadingly at a low ebb. In contrast to past years when construction work was being conducted on virtually every edge of the campus, it was centralized this year into one location.

Rising from the old Hanger Stadium site were the new Powell University Center, which will be EKU's new social center, the William Wallace Building, a classroom structure, and the nondenominational Chapel of Meditation.

Right: Structural steel is outlined against the sky at the William Wallace Building site. Below: A single photograph captures major construction activity at the Powell University Center, the Chapel of Meditation, and the Wallace Building. Opposite: A crane rises above the work on the University Center





Snow and Cold Close Classes

After a winter devoid of snowfall through its first two months, Eastern fell victim to heavy accumulations of the cold, white stuff in February. Slick roads and campus sidewalks, coupled with sub-10 degree weather, forced the cancellation of a day-and-a-half of classes.

While the heating plant, which had suffered the burn-out of stoker motor, struggled to maintain campus warmth, students frolicked, impervious to the cold.

Teaching Highlights Many Seniors' Year

For more than half of Eastern's graduating seniors, a semester of student teaching was a unique experience. After three years of preparation and the study of education and subject matter courses, the theory of the classroom was put into practice.

Besides being a valuable learning device for the future teachers, it was the initial, first-hand taste of their chosen profession.

Spring Fever Precedes Finals

An inescapable fact of every school year is that the warm weather of spring and the academic showdown of final examinations coincide. Fortunately, there always seem to be a few short weeks available to enjoy springtime before turning to the serious work at hand.

Outdoor Activities Highlight Spring

Spring's warming weather drove campus activity back to the outdoors as Greek events like Kappa Alpha's Old South Week, the Delta Upsilon bike race, and the organized spring sports began to dominate leisure hours.

For more than 1,700 Eastern seniors, enjoying their last bout as students with spring fever, the culmination of four years came closer as the days drew longer.

Commencement Is Alpha and Omega

Suddenly, it ended!

For some 2,000 persons, commencement signaled both the end of years of preparation at Eastern and the beginning of a future as bright as their initiative and imagination would allow.

Left behind were friends and the many things which would always be held dear. But, none could, if they wanted, leave behind the memories.

Governor Nunn Emphasizes Order

The Commonwealth's Governor, the Honorable Louie B. Nunn, took special interest in higher education during the third year of his term, as he took steps aimed at preventing disruption on Kentucky's campuses.

Early in the academic year, the governor sent letters to all students enrolled in Kentucky's public universities and colleges urging them to maintain order so that public and legislative reaction would not endanger the institutions' sources of funds.

The Kentucky chief executive's visits to Eastern included a dinner honoring Regent Earle B. Combs on his induction into the baseball Hall of Fame, a press conference for high school journalists, and the dedication of the Robert B. Begley Building.

At the Begley dedication, Governor Nunn said, "This nation today looks to its universities to restore themselves as citadels of reason in a free society." He said that "those who want to maintain the university must align themselves in support of academic freedom. There is no middle ground here because to tolerate violence is to condone violence."

Regents' Decisions Affect University Life

As the University's official governing body, the Board of Regents made itself felt through the enactment of important measures in virtually every phase of EKU's operation during the 1970-71 year.

The administrative measure which first affected students was the adoption of a new academic calendar that advanced school year dates by nearly four weeks. Under the new schedule, the year began in late August, with commencement set for early May.

Okaying a new student body constitution, approval of construction bond issues, the sanctioning of a dozen new degree programs and new administrative and faculty appointments consumed a good part of the Regent's work.

Eastern's Board of Regents is composed of men who have made significant contributions in their professions, appointed to four-year terms by the Governor. Student and faculty representatives, who are elected by their peers, serve as non-voting members on the Board.

EASTERN'S BOARD OF REGENTS: Earle B. Combs, Robert B. Begley, Bob Babbage, William L. Wallace, President Robert R. Martin, Wendell P. Butler, State Superintendent of Public Instruction: Dr. J. C. Powell, board secretary: Henry Stratton, Gerald May, Ralph Whalin, Marvin Edwards. Below: Regents Begley, Babbage, and Wallace study a proposal for a new graduate degree program during a quarterly board meeting.

President Martin Assumes National Post

Dr. Robert R. Martin began his second decade as Eastern's sixth president in impressive fashion this year as he reaped honors and recognition for the achievements of his administration and assumed an important position of national educational leadership.

Recognition came in the form of resolutions from the EKU faculty, Board of Regents, the Alumni Association, and Richmond and Madison County government as Dr. Martin's 10th year as president ended. The resolutions commended President Martin for his efforts in providing educational opportunities and the maintenance of order on the Eastern campus.

Later in the year, in ceremonies at Morehead, President Martin received the Joint Alumni Council of Kentucky's first award for distinguished service to education.

Dr. Martin was thrust into a position of national leadership in November when the American Association of State Colleges and Universities elected him as the organization's president-elect. He will serve as president of the 275-institution group next year.

Earlier, during the summer, Dr. Martin represented the AASCU before a Congressional education and labor committee studying federal assistance to college and university students.

In testimony that received prominent attention from federal government and the national press, Dr. Martin likened a student aid plan that would restrict funds to disrupted campuses to a "three-legged horse." He pointed that the plan, which would have made an estimated 100,000 low-income students ineligible for financial aid, would "limp along badly until it finally collapses."

In January, Dr. Martin issued a 36-page report of Eastern's development from 1959-60 to 1969-70. Entitled "Toward a Vision," the report outlined quantitative and qualitative developments at Eastern in the primary areas of physical plant, faculty, curricula, and student services.

The latter area, student services, received special emphasis from President Martin during the 1970-71 year. The establishment of a counseling center away from administrative offices and an expanded program within the residence halls were parts of the effort to bring student services on par with other University functions.

Regents Name Center To Honor Powell

Vice President for Administration, Dr. J. C. Powell, was recognized this year for his contributions to the University during the past decade when the Board of Regents named the new university center to honor him.

Concerned with the University's fiscal affairs and with certain areas of general administration, Dr. Powell has as one of his major assignments the preparation of Eastern's internal budget. He prepares the University's annual budget request for funds appropriated by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth. The organization of bond issues for construction projects and development of applications for federal funds for construction were among other responsibilities assigned to his office.

The Vice President for Administration has responsibilities for the Office of Internal Auditor, Division of Safety and Security and Division of Data Processing. The Safety and Security operation moved into new facilities in the Brewer Building this year.

New Academic Programs Begun

Coordinating the implementation of 18 new degree programs while gaining Board of Regents sanction of 11 more was a major effort of the Office of Academic Affairs, directed by Vice President Thomas F. Stovall, during the 1970-71 academic year.

Graduate degree programs offered for the first time included the Specialists in Education degree in four areas; three Master of Arts in Education concentrations; and MA's in physics, geology, psychology and criminal justice.

New undergraduate fields included the Bachelor of Arts in journalism and regional planning, Bachelor of Science degrees in fisheries management, distributive education and rehabilitation education. A bachelor's degree program leading to certification in special education was also added, and an Associate of Arts in medical assisting was new.

Programs approved for 1971-72 included master's degrees in French, Spanish, mathematics, psychology, and education with emphasis in school health, plus a fifth-year program in school health education. Baccalaureate programs were nursing, interior design, art, and minors in social work and rehabilitation education. An associate program in interior decoration was also okayed.

In other important actions this year, a new pass-fail grading system was initiated for student teaching and the Division of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics was redesignated as a school.

Dr Thomas F Stovall, Vice President of Academic Affairs, directs Eastern's overall scholastic program.

Activities, Counseling Receive Attention

An office of student organizations and activities and a counseling center were among the development in the Office of Student Affairs.

The Student organizations and activities operation was made responsible for scheduling and coordinating University-sponsored activities as well as activities of campus organizations. This office was planned to work with the University Center Board upon completion of the University Center.

A counseling center was also an important addition to the student affairs program. The center, housed in Ellendale Hall, offered free counseling to any Eastern student. The counseling center also operated a phone-in service until midnight, permitting students calls to discuss any problem or request needed information.

The campus infirmary offered improved services this year with the addition of a nurse and an evening physician. With these additions the infirmary remained open to students until 11 p.m.

A program of hiring full time dorm directors was also initiated as activities in the residence halls took on a two-fold purpose this year. In an attempt to make the dorms educational, as well as residence halls special programs and encounter groups were implemented to insure that students and directors work together in the operation of the residence halls.

The admissions office became more efficient with the hiring of an admissions counselor. The hiring of a second counselor was planned for the near future.

Research Sanctions Thirty-Six Projects

The Office of Research and Development, headed by Vice President John D. Rowlett, continued its accelerated expansion of the '60's with the funding of 36 new projects during the 1970 calendar year.

A service arm of the University which assists EKU's academic functions, the office also worked closely with projects and programs supported by federal and other non-institutional funds. Dr. Rowlett's division provided the central contact between the University and various federal agencies.

Support for the 36 projects came from such agencies as the National Science Foundation, U.S. Office of Education, National Institutes of Health, Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, National Highway Safety Bureau, U.S. Public Health Service, Corporation for Public Broadcasting, Housing and Urban Development, and Social and Rehabilitation Service.

Business Affairs Extends Scope

Under the guidance of Vice President for Business Affairs Neal Donaldson, the Office of Business Affairs met the burgeoning business, financial and institutional services requirements of the University during 1970-71, requirements which were broadened by the expanding physical plant.

The complex organization of the office necessary to provide required services to the institution includes divisions of accounting and budgetary control, bursar, buildings and grounds, housing, institutional services, personnel services, purchases and store, university store, and the university farm.

The efforts of the office to maintain a constant flow of electricity throughout the campus was improved during the Christmas break when the Division of Buildings and Grounds secured a substantial system to withstand heavy overloads.

Public Affairs Sees Fund Drive Ended

Renewal of the Century Fund drive to finance the construction of the Chapel of Meditation with private funds was a highlight of the year's activities of the Office of Public Affairs.

Under the direction of Vice President for Public Affairs, Mr. Donald R. Feltner, the office, through the Division of Alumni Affairs, successfully tackled the task of raising $120,000 in additional funds to complete the drive to build the non-denominational chapel. The Century Fund stood at $236,000 when bid openings for the project in August revealed that inflation had forced an original $200,000 cost estimate to soar to $355,000.

New pledges and extensions of previous pledges — including contributions of both types from numerous student organizations — raised the required funds. Contracts were signed in October and a fall, 1971, completion date was set.

Several special events were held during the year including five dedication programs, most colorful of which was the dedication of the Robert B. Begley Building. A morning address by Governor Louie B. Nunn provided the highlight.

The Office of Public Affairs also maintained its continuing programs in the divisions of Alumni Affairs, University-School Relations, News and Publications, Placement and Informational Services. Band Day, High School Senior Day, Homecoming, Alumni Day and an assortment of high school festivals, camps and other events were recurring programs of the office which attracted thousands of persons to the campus.

During the fall, the office compiled and edited, in cooperation with other major administrative offices, a 10-year report of the President of the past decade, entitled, "Toward A Vision."

Vice President for Public Affairs Donald R. Feltner, in addition to coordinating the University's relations with its varied publics, advises EKU's All-American student publications, the PROGRESS and MILESTONE.

CENTRAL UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

CUC Opens Doors to Fields of Study

Central University College was orginated with the two-fold purpose of developing interdisciplinary curricula and advising its students.

Students enter Eastern and CUC simultaneously, proceeding through two years of general studies. After meeting academic requirements, students are admitted into upper division colleges where they finish studies in a specialized major.

The "Learning Laboratory" is a special feature of CUC. The lab was set up to advise and direct students who showed difficulty in adjusting to academic pressures, yet whose high school and test records displayed ability to achieve.

Experimental classes were adapted in freshman English composition classes this year. Students were able to proceed at their own rate to complete the courses and did not have the worry of direct competition to contend with.

Future plans are to apply experimental class techniques to general studies science classes.

APPLIED ARTS AND TECHNOLOGY

The Dean of the College of Applied Arts and Technology, Dr. William Sexton, stands responsible for the additional programs in the College.

Arts and Technology Expands Programs

The College of Applied Arts and Technology expanded opportunities during the fall semester of 1970, when three new programs enlarged the Departments of Agriculture, Law Enforcement, and Nursing. Students interested in a two-year program in Turf-Management, a Master of Science Degree in Criminal Justice, or two-year programs in Clinical Medical Assisting and Administrative Medical Assisting now find these available to them.

During the fall semester, three specialized projects were undertaken in the fields of law enforcement and vocational-technical education. Eastern's School of Law Enforcement was awarded 12 of the 16 graduate fellowships approved nationally to prepare college teachers of law enforcement.

A program in regional corrections training was implemented to serve the states of Kentucky, Tennessee, and West Virginia.

In conjunction with the Pikeville Model City Agency, Eastern began an innovative program in vocational-technical education for the Pikeville City Schools.

New facilities also supplemented the opportunities offered by the College. Agriculture offered its first class in the A.B. Carter Building during the fall semester, while both the School of Law Enforcement and the Traffic Safety Institute found new headquarters in the Begley Building.

During the fall semester, 1970, a total of 1,310 majors (full-time and part-time) were enrolled in four-year programs and 807 were entered in two-year programs.

The faculty grew to a total of 61 full-time and part-time members. Mr. Ralph W. Whalin, Chairman of the Industrial Education Department for 30 years, retired from the chairmanship to return to full-time teaching. Dr. Clyde O. Craft was named to succeed Mr. Whalin.

ARTS AND SCIENCES

Arts and Sciences Expand Programs

The College of Arts and Sciences implemented eight new academic degree programs — three undergraduate and five graduate — during the 1970-71 year while laying plans for six more new programs for summer 1971.

Begun on the baccalaureate level were programs in journalism, regional planning and fisheries management. Graduate curricula initiated were concentrations in French, Spanish, and earth science for the MA in Education, and Master of Science degrees in geology and physics.

Go ahead was given during the year for additional master's curricula in math, French, Spanish, and experimental psychology.

The completion of the William L. Wallace Building, anticipated in the fall, will provide office and classroom space for the departments of English, drama and speech, philosophy, anthropology and sociology, and mathematics.

Areas of concentration presently include art, English, social science, music, fishery management, wildlife management, and regional planning.

Master of Science, Master of Arts, Master of Music Education, and Master of Public Administration were the graduate degrees offered in the College of Arts and Sciences. BS and BA curricula were offered in 28 majors.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

Business Initiates New BS Program

Under the direction of Dr. Joseph H. Young, the College of Business successfully initiated a new program, the Bachelor of Science in Distributive Education. Besides heading the College of Business, Dean Young also served the university as acting chairman of the Department of Business Administration.

After receiving a liberal education, business majors moved forward within the wide range of two- and four-year programs offered toward a career in such business areas as accounting, economics, electronic data processing, management, marketing, secretarial science, and general business. Many of the two-year programs were designed for vocational careers or served as preparation for the four-year curricula. These four-year degrees led students to the knowledge and skill demanded in the complicated business world.

The Master of Arts in Education was offered through the cooperation of the Department of Business Education and Office Administration, the Graduate School and the College of Education. While concentrating on business aspects, the program certified the degree holder to teach subjects in secondary and vocational schools, junior colleges and universities as well as supervisory and administrative positions at local and state levels.

Secretarial programs included the core courses of the College of Business plus additional courses in shorthand, typing, office machines, secretarial practice and office management. The graduates were prepared to move to high-level positions within business, industry, and government as executives secretaries, administrative assistants and managerial positions.

COLLEGE OF EUCATION

Education Enjoys News Facilities

One highlight for many departments in the College of Education this year was the moving into new buildings with visions of more to come. The Director of the School of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics along with the departments of Physical Education for Men, Recreation and Park Administration moved into the Begley Building. Besides these advancements, plans were made for next year to move the Special Education and Rehabilitation Department into the new facilities of the William Wallace Classroom Building.

Under Dr. Dixon A. Barr, Dean of the College of Education, various new programs were implemented and approved, including a new masters degree in school health and a minor in rehabilitation education. The already wide curricula expanded further with specialist degree programs in elementary education, school guidance and counseling, student personnel services in higher education, and educational administration. Student teachers were evaluated for the first time this year on a pass-fail basis.

The College of Education encompassed many and varied fields of study. After completing the general education courses, education majors moved into their specialized and professional education programs.

In the final stages of preparation for launching their careers, the students went into an actual classroom situation with eight weeks of supervised teaching. Besides teaching, the College of Education offered such majors as school librarianship and guidance and counseling. Within the college, the School of Health, Physical Education Recreation and Athletics offered a wide range of studies in school health, public health, recreational training and a wide scope of physical education programs.

Graduate School Boosts Programs

Advancements in graduate studies occurred on two broad fronts during the academic year, 1970-1971. The man supervising the planning and approval of new graduate degrees was Dean Elmo E. Moretz.

New Master of Science Degree programs were inititated in the fields of criminal justice, geology, and physics. The areas of earth science, French, Spanish, and special education were added as options for graduate study. They were opened to students seeking the Master of Arts in Education Degree, making Eastern a more comprehensive university in terms of programming for teachers.

At the advanced graduate level, four additional emphases were added leading to the Specialist in Education Degree: Elementary education, guidance and counseling, student personnel, and administrative and supervision.

Enrollment increase from some 800 to 1200, including better than 400 full-time students, was the other area of significant progress. Graduates of many other institutions attended Eastern as a graduate institution. The proportion of students with graduate degrees pursuing doctoral programs and joining the faculties of junior and four-year colleges was at an all-time high.

Margaret Skaggs Named 1971 Hall Of Fame

Symbolizing the highest standards of scholarship, leadership, and overall value to the University and community is the 1971 entry into the Eastern Hall of Fame, Miss Margaret Ann Skaggs. Miss Skaggs, from Ashland, Kentucky, is distinguished as a scholar-leader who has made the most of her college years contributing to the betterment of the University's people and programs.

The winner was selected by a secret committee named by President Martin from nominations made by each of the four colleges, the Student Association, Omicron Alpha Kappa, and Collegiate Pentacle.

A classical foreign languages major, Miss Skaggs has maintained a perfect 4.0 overall academic standing. In addition to being named the 1971 Hall of Fame entry, she is listed in Who's Who. Margaret was named highest ranking sophomore working toward a professional degree, and she also received a departmental award for the best student in Latin.

Her many campus activities include membership in Kappa Delta Pi where she served as vice-president, CWENS, Interdorm Council, and secretary of Collegiate Pentacle. Upon graduation, she plans to enter graduate school to study classic languages.

The Milestone proudly salutes Miss Margaret Ann Skaggs, 1971 entry into the Eastern Hall of Fame.

Honor Rollees Display Varied Activities

The 1971 Milestone Honor Roll denotes the highest achievement in each of the four colleges in regard to a particular field of study and a displayed interest and contribution to campus activities. Nominations were made by the deans of each respective college on the foundation of high academic standing and leadership qualities.

The 1971 Honor Roll has a combined three-year academic standing of 3.55. Crowning the list is Miss Nita Henderson, a home economics education major with a 3.876 point standing. Some of her activities include CWENS, Kappa Delta Pi, Collegiate Pentacle, Who's Who, and the Burrier Award. James V. Pellegrinon, a Political Science major with a 3.32 average, has been active in KIE, Polity Society, the Student Association of which he served as President, and is listed in Who's Who. Miss Diana Moore, a speech and audiology major with a 3.55 standing, has been active in CWENS, Sigma Tau Pi, Chi Omega, was runner-up in the 1970 Miss Richmond Pageant, and finalist in both the 1969 and 1970 Homecoming Queen contests. Mrs. Jane Gritton, a business education major with a 3.41 average, has been an active member of CWENS, SNEA, Sigma Tau Pi, and Collegiate Pentacle.

Involved Seniors Merit Citations

The Milestone, continued its seven-year-old tradition of honoring seniors who have shown involvement in campus life through leadership and abilities in extra-curricular activities. Senior Citations are awarded to students in the areas of music, religion, student government, military, student publications, and Greeks.

Candidates were nominated by departmental chairmen and organization sponsors. Final selections were made by a secret committee of faculty, administration, and student representatives.

Religion: BONNIE RICHARDSON, JIM PELLEGRINON, and JEAN BURTON

Student Government. JIM PELLEGRINON, ROBERT BLYTHE, CATHY WOZNY, HERB JONES, and JAMES PRATT.

Thirty-Eight Gain Who's Who Rating

Thirty-eight Eastern Kentucky University students were selected for listing in the 1970-71 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

After nominations were submitted by department chairmen and the student association, EKU's nominees to the national organization were selected by a faculty committee. Both the local and national criteria included the demonstration of outstanding traits of scholarship, leadership and service.

Each member received a certificate of commendation from Who's Who and was listed with his achievements in the annual publication.

Kappa Delta Pi Gives Scholarship Award

Kappa Delta Pi gave a scholarship award to the sophomore man and woman with the highest academic standing who were planning to teach.

Delta Alpha Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi was installed on May 5, 1935 with the purpose of recognizing outstanding contributions to education. Each candidate for membership must exhibit worthy educational ideals with the intention to continue in the field of education and a minimum academic standing of 3.1.

Psi Chi Invites Guest Speakers

Psi Chi held the club's two traditional faculty-student picnics this year. Also, several speakers gave talks on specified topics of interest in the field of psychology throughout the year.

The Eastern chapter of Psi Chi, the national honor society for psychology, was installed on May 24, 1968. Requirements for membership include at least eight hours of psychology with a major or minor in this field, a rank in the top 35% of the class in general scholarship and an indication of superior scholarship in psychology.

Polity Society Debates

Polity Society held campus-wide lectures with different speakers throughout the year. Debates on political issues kept the interest of the group, as well as discussions on questionable topics.

The Polity Society promotes the political role in everyday life and makes membership open to Political Science majors with nine hours and a 3.0 grade average.

FRONT ROW: Sandy Spieser, Stuart Reagan, Claire James, Mary Pettengill, Ray Sparnon, Carol Pfeifer, and Jo Ann Brothers.

Honor Society Boosts History

Phi Alpha Theta, national history honorary, held discussions in informal settings at the homes of faculty members, where the members discussed history-related subjects.

Xi-Theta Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta requires that members be junior or senior history majors maintaining a 3.0 point standing. The honorary seeks to bring students, teachers, and writers of history together both intellectually and socially.

A.P.G. Members Attend Meeting

Members of Alpha Phi Gamma attended the Associated Collegiate Press Convention in Minneapolis to learn new ways of improving college journalism publications. During the year, they held money making projects to meet their pledge for the Meditation Chapel.

Delta Iota Chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma honors individual achievement in journalism as shown through a student's participation on one of the three campus publications.

KIE is a sophomore man's honorary requiring a 3.0 point standing and a displayed interest in student life through participation in campus organizations and activities.

CWENS Helps Orient Freshmen

Members of the Mu Chapter of CWENS served as Orientation workers for Freshmen at the beginning of the year. In December they held a Christmas banquet for all freshmen, active members, and invited guests.

CWENS is a service sorority designed for sophomore women with high achievement in scholastics and to better prepare her for a rewarding life. Applicants for membership must have a 3.0 point standing or better, be a freshman, and be involved in at least two other social activities.

Pi Tau Chi Attends National Confab

Attendance at the Pi Tau Chi national convention at Columbus, Mississippi, was the major event of the year for EKU's Zeta Chapter.

Monthly dinner meetings helped members become better acquainted.

New members were inducted into Pi Tau Chi at the end of the year. Nominees are admitted on the basis of honorable distinction in Christian service.

Collegiate Pentacle Greets Transfers

Members of Collegiate Pentacle served as usherettes at Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises and sponsored a coke party for transfer students during Orientation. During the Fall, they sold tickets to a Colonel basketball game to benefit Richmond's retarded children.

Collegiate Pentacle is a women's honorary society recognizing students who have shown outstanding qualities of leadership and service. Requirements for membership include a 3.0 or better academic standing, and be active in at least two or more organizations.

Alpha Phi Sigma Sponsors Spook House

Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma sponsored a "spook house" to familiarize students and citizens with a positive side of law enforcement, sponsored a Law Enforcement Explorer Post, and attended the National Criminal Justice Conference at Michigan State University.

Formed to unite students preparing for professional careers in the field of law enforcement, Alpha Phi Sigma received their national status and charter in the spring of 1970. Requirements for membership include a major in Law Enforcement and a 3.0 point standing or better in major subjects, and a 2.5 or better accumulative standing.

OVC Halo Eludes Young Colonels

In the second year of rebuilding after winning the Ohio Valley Conference halo in 1967 and 1968, Eastern's sophomore-dominated Colonels surprised their football peers and were in the race for the OVC championship until the last three minutes of the season.

With the title seemingly in grasp and needing only a victory in the season finale over Morehead, Coach Roy Kidd's Colonels suffered one of the most heartbreaking upsets in EKU football history.

The Eagles' freshman kicking specialist, Kirk Andrews, booted a 22-yard field goal with 2:31 remaining to give Morehead a 16-13 decision and knock Eastern out of a third OVC crown in four years and drop the Colonels' record to 8-2 for the 1970 campaign.

Had Coach Kidd been able to look ahead and visualize the outcome of the season, he probably would have been pleased. But had he forseen the two losses and what they would mean, there doubtless would have been more than a trace of disappointment in his expression.

The two setbacks came against perennial archrivals Western and Morehead, and both were fateful to Eastern's title hopes.

Narrow Win Kickoff Gridders' Campaign

Pre-season calculations made Eastern look good on paper, but many of the Colonels were young and untested and perhaps no one suspected that five Colonels would make All-OVC and two would receive mention on All-American units.

Eastern's offensive standout, Jimmy Brooks, along with Butch Evans, Pat Sheridan, James Croudep and Wally Chambers were picked as all-conference honorees while Brooks and Croudep were recognized nationally.

The Colonels visited Muncie, Indiana for their season-opener against non-league foe Ball State — a game Coach Kidd predicted would determine the season. A 13-12 EKU victory did exactly that. The Cols later missed the crown just as narrowly as they won that first game.

The Colonel defense dominates play as (left) Mike Nicholson crushes a Middle Tennessee passer, and (below) Wally Chambers (78) and Tom Gaebler (83) combine to stop Western's John Embree for no gain. Middle fell 24-10 to the Colonels, but Western handed EKU its first defeat, 19-7.

EKU Topples Bucs, Overwhelms Govs

Jackie Miller and the educated toe of Ralph Gillespie were prime factors in that initial triumph. Miller, a defensive back, crashed in to block a Ball State conversion attempt and Gillespie later tacked an extra point onto Eastern's second touchdown to provide the margin.

An air of excitement prevailed as the Colonels prepared for defending OVC champion and 1969 Grantland Rice Bowl winner East Tennessee. Billed as a game that might eventually decide the 1970 title, Eastern overcame the Bucs and a fourth quarter rain storm to emerge with a 10-6 victory and place itself in the driver's seat of the league.

Game No. 3 found Eastern on the road against Austin Peay and the Colonels assasinated the Governors, 38-7, with Brooks rushing for over 140 yards.

Stung By Western Loss, EKU Recovers

The stage was set for the 43rd renewal of the classic Eastern-Western battle. The Colonels packed up their 5-0 record and headed for Bowling Green. Western was 4-0-1 and the survivor was expected to have a strong hold on the OVC race.

Along with 20,000 fans and the excitement, came the rains. Western took a two-touchdown lead before halftime, and Eastern, trying to play catch-up, could not contend with the weather and the Toppers. So Western moved atop the OVC and Eastern had suffered its first defeat.

The loss was quickly shelved, though, and the Colonels unleased their wrath on Murray and redeemed themselves with a 17-7 Homecoming victory over the Racers before 22,500 fans. Quarterback Bob Fricker and end Larry Kirksey provided the fireworks, teaming for several long pass completions that pointed to victory.

Eastern was 6-1 . . . but Western kept winning and hopes dimmed in Richmond for any chance of the championship.

Colonels Take Lead But Falter In Finale

Then came Saturday, October 13, and behold, Eastern was back on top in the conference race! The Colonels toppled Tennessee Tech 20-13 while Middle Tennessee was upsetting Western. Now it boiled down to Morehead for Eastern and Murray for the Hilltoppers.

In the meantime, the Colonels blanked Indiana State 9-0 and took an 8-1 mark into the finale against Morehead. A desparate Western faced Murray. The two games would decide the OVC race in one of several possible ways. It was curtains for Eastern, however, for while Morehead was playing the spoiler for the Colonels, Western was whipping the Racers. That combination gave the Toppers the title.

Previously anticipating a bid to the Grantland Rice Bowl, Eastern, though compiling a splendid 8-2 record, had nothing left but to "wait until next year." And next year could belong to the Colonels as Coach Kidd loses only three players through graduation — Evans, Paul Hampton and Mike Armstrong.

Statistically, Brooks, who will return as a senior for the 1971 season, led the Colonels in rushing with 970 yards in 248 carries. This brought his three-year total to 3,028. He also led the EKU scoring with 11 TD's for 66 points.

Kirksey was the top pass-receiver with 25 receptions for 286 yards and two touchdowns. Fricker led the passing, completing 55 of 123 for a 44.7 percentage and seven tallies.

Chambers topped the defense with 65 tackles and 57 assists while receiving able backing from Croudep, Miller, Eddie Huffman, Richard Cook and James Porter.

With such a nucleus returning, Coach Kidd and his Colonels are good bets to be back at the pinnacle of the Ohio Valley Converence again in '71.

Colonels Snap Back To Tie For 2nd In OVC

It was a unique sort of season for the Eastern basketball squad, and nobody was really ready for it to end.

Just when the Colonels had jelled, ripping off 9 wins in the last 11 starts, the season closed. After a shaky beginning, Eastern had roared to a 16-8 record and a 10-4 mark in the Ohio Valley Conference that was good for a second place tie with Murray. It was the highest league finish for the Colonels since 1966.

An oddity of the season was that Eastern posted identical 5-2 home and road conference records. Only team to beat the Colonels twice — including a heart-stopping 94-93 overtime battle — was league champion Western.

After brushing aside neighboring Berea 111-77 in their opener, the Colonels got their first of five exposures to nationally ranked teams. After leading eventual Big Eight champ Kansas 40-32 at the half, the Colonels lost 79-65.

Coach Guy Strong's squad was flat when it returned home, permitting college-division power Howard Payne slip from Alumni Coliseum with a 96-89 victory.

Eastern Gets Hot, Then Enters Slump

It wasn't until the season's fourth game that the Colonels showed some of the form expected of them in pre-season forecasts. Trailing visiting St. Francis 41-35 at the half, Eastern caught fire and overtook the Frankies for a 91-87 win behind George Bryant's 38 points. Virginia Commonwealth was the next opponent, and the Rams left Alumni Coliseum smarting from a 107-80 whipping as Bryant got 31. King George got 31 again five nights later as the Colonels ended the homestand with an 89-83 triumph over Western Carolina.

Christmas break found Eastern in Evansville for the Holiday Invitational against tough Weber State, perennial Big Sky champ. The Colonels led by two, 40-38, at the half, but big Willie Sojourner finished with 28 points, 16 rebounds and a dozen blocked shots. Eastern lost 83-76. The next night EKU bounced back to topple Portland 80-70 in the consolation game.

The Weber and Portland games started a win-a-game, lose-a-game streak that lasted for eight games of mid-season "doldrums" for the Colonels. Returning home for two OVC games with students away on vacation, Eastern was entering what proved to be a crucial portion of the schedule.

Murray came to the Coliseum first and beat the sputtering Colonels 81-74 in a game marred by the Racer reserves and coaches leaving the floor 11 seconds before the buzzer with Ron Johnson shooting foul shots.

Sputtering Colonels Turn Season Around

The theatrics were a reminder of the year before when a clock malfunction ended a game with Eastern one point ahead. Austin Peay, hitting the off-again, on-again Colonels on the wrong night, fell victim 115-89. Against the Governors, Bryant had 26, while heralded sophomore, Charlie Mitchell, began to rumble to life with 25.

Then came important road games at Western and Middle Tennessee. True to form, Eastern lost the first one, at Bowling Green 83-64, while apparently Middle Tennessee was doomed by fate to an 88-64 home-court shellacking by the Colonels who were led by Mitchell's 24.

A nine-point second half lead dwindled away at Johnson City as East Tennessee won 70-64 and the alternative win-lose streak was over. The Colonels were 7-6 on the season and 2-3 in league play. Few expected them to win eight of their next nine OVC games.

But, Bryant and Mitchell, with 22 and 19 respectively, led the Colonels past Tennessee Tech 79-67 in the Coliseum. Then, Bryant ripped off 44 points and a school record 18 field goals against Virginia Tech in an 86-79 win. A 13-day layoff followed, capped with a trip to Dayton where the Flyers whipped a sluggish Eastern 110-86. It must have awakened the Colonels . . . they would lose only once more.

Two successive OVC wins, Morehead 90-62 and Austin Peay 99-72, showed the Colonels were primed for the return match with Murray. Bryant got 28, but Mitchell, with 22, was the big hero. With Murray down by one, and 11 seconds (ironically) to go, the sophomore hit two free throws. This time, the Murray reserves and coaches remained as Eastern, out-of-reach of a last second shot, won 81-80. On the second game of the trip, Middle Tennessee fell victim to the Colonels 65-60, and the surging Mitchell got 31.

EKU Loses Thriller, Wins Last Three Games

Then came the decisive home game with Western. Four technical fouls, one on the crowd of 8,200, and three on Coach Guy Strong, who was automatically ejected, punctuated 40 minutes of regulation play that ended 83-83, after Eastern had led almost the entire game. A Hilltopper shot with five seconds to go killed Eastern's upset hopes 94-93.

Their title hopes gone, Eastern was now locked in a second place race with Murray. Avenging the earlier loss to East Tennessee with an 85-78 win, the Colonels then polished off Tennessee Tech, 95-91, and Morehead 76-74 on the road to close the season in a deadlock for the runnerup spot with the Racers.

Statistical leaders for the Colonels were leading scorer Bryant with 24.7 points per game, followed by Mitchell's 16.6, Carl Greenfield's 10.5 and Billy Burton with 10.2.

Greenfield's 11.8 rebounds per game was high, followed by Mitchell's 8.4, and Daryl Dunagan with 6.8.

Baby Colonels Post 16-6 Season Mark

Eastern's freshman basketball team completed its most successful season since 1966-67 as Coach Jack Hissom's squad compiled a 16-6 record. Playing against some of the strongest competition in this section of the nation, the Baby Colonels were able to accumulate two winning streaks, one of seven games to start the season and the six-game skein at the end of the year.

Robert Brooks, Kentucky's "Mr. Basketball" in 1970 (an honor bestowed upon the top high school player in the state each year), led four double-figure scorers for the Baby Colonels with his 23.5 average. Supporting Brooks in the scoring column were Bob Wiegele (17.7), Bobby Newell (17.1), and Rick Stansel (13.0). Brooks also topped Eastern rebounders with a 15.4 average, followed closely by Stansel's 14.4 mark.

Harriers Hurt But Silvious Sparkles

Above: Tom Finley has no company but the morning mist as he works out early in preparation for the cross country season. Below: All-American Ken Silvious, here way out in front toward a meet's end, set six course records during the season.

After starting the season on the right foot with six consecutive wins, injuries began to plague the Colonel cross-country squad the latter part of the schedule. The best coach E. G. Plummer's squad could muster in the Ohio Valley Conference Meet was a seventh place finish.

Ken Silvious, Eastern's two-time cross-country All-American, did, however, complete another successful season. The 5-7, 137-pound senior from Mt. Jackson, Va., placed first in every dual meet and won the Ohio Valley Conference meet, setting a new course record with a time of 29:16.

Breaking course records was certainly not an oddity for Silvious during the 1970 campaign. In fact, in the 14 meets in which Eastern competed, Silvious was able to set new course standards in six of these. Perhaps, Silvious' most impressive showing came at Atlanta, Ga., in the Southeastern Collegiate Championships.

Eels Keep Crown; Combs Wins 100th

It was another banner year for Eastern's Eels and Coach Don Combs.

The powerful EKU swimmers presented Combs with the biggest milestone in his career — win number 100 — with a 64-49 triumph over Indiana State in the next-to-last meet of the year.

The last meet? It was win number 101 as the Eels won their ninth straight Kentucky Swimming and Diving Championships, outstripping their closest competition — the University of Kentucky — 578½ to 317.

Only blemish on the Eels' year was a 63-50 early season loss to Southeastern Conference powerhouse Alabama. They more than evened the score against SEC competition later, however, splashing Georgia 74-39, Vanderbilt 64½-48½, and Kentucky 61-52.

Another season high spot was a 60-53 triumph against previously unbeaten Eastern Michigan — four-time National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics champion — in the Hurons' home pool.

Three Eels posted regular season times good enough to qualify for the NCAA Championships at Ames, Iowa. They were freshmen Kevin Miles, 200-yard freestyle, and Rick Murphy, 200-yard butterfly, and sophomore Scott Gallant, one-meter diving.

Only two Eels were lost through graduation. They were co-captains Pete Reed and Jay Chanley, both EKU record holders, both of whom earned College Division All-American recognition in 1968, the year before the Eels entered university-division competition.

Young Team Shows Promise For Future

Senior pitcher Don McCullough displays the form that helped him lead the team with an earned run average of 1.76.

Coach C. T. "Turkey" Hughes fielded a young but talented team last season and his leadership brought them a second place finish in the OVC's Eastern division. Only two seniors were listed on the squad and they were both pitchers. Coach Hughes called it a rebuilding year, and build is what he did while posting a 17-11 record.

Sophomore second baseman Buzz Ashby led the team in hitting with a .385 average. He was the only Colonel to win all-OVC honors. The team was loaded with offensive punch, right fielder Larry Cook finished the season with a batting average of .344 and shortstop Mike Powers ended the campaign at .346. The Colonel pitching was in the hands of Don McCullough and Larry Robertson, but both were lost due to graduation.

Coach Hughes, who has won 10 conference championships in 22 years is hoping his Colonels have gained the experience needed to bring home another conference crown.

Thinclads on Road For Major Meets

It wasn't very apparent in 1970, but Eastern had a track team, and a successful one as well. The team was not seen very often in competition at Eastern. A new track was laid during the season and, as a result, the thinclads were forced to cancel all but two meets at home. Eastern came to victor in those two meets, first by stopping Morehead, 105-40, and then in triangular competition with Kentucky State and Morehead.

Eastern competed in the Florida Relays, the Ball State Relays, the Drake Relays, and the NCAA Championship. The Colonels had a number of fine athletes in sprint as well as in their always strong distance team. Art Howard and John Johnson were considered among the best in the OVC in the 100-yard dash and the high hurdles.

Link Play Shows Improved Record

Coach Glenn Presnell and a young, inexperienced golf team entered a tough schedule last spring and came out winners. The linksters had only one senior, Paul Schultz, and a host of talented underclassmen and finished the season with an 11-1 mark. The golfers came back later and whipped the only team to defeat them, the University of Kentucky.

The team competed in duel competition at the Furman Invitational where there were some of the better golf teams in the nation. They came home with an eleventh place finish out of twenty-two teams. In the Mid-South Classic the Colonels captured sixth place out of sixteen teams.

It was not until the OVC meet that the Colonels experienced trouble. There things went badly as the linksters finished seventh. Paul Schultz took medalist honors for the team and he was backed by Jim Moore and Jim Saunders.

Netters Have A Disappointing Year

The Eastern tennis team, hit hard by graduation the previous year, suffered through a long losing season. The Colonel netters were young and inexperienced in a strong eight-team conference. A sixth place finish was the best they could manage, but there were a number of outstanding individual performances. The top scorer was Tom Davis. He was backed by the fine play of Pat Geron and John Young.

Coach Jack Adams took his team around the south and competed against a number of strong powers such as South Carolina, Davidson and Furman. The schedule also included Ohio State and Eastern Michigan.

Grapplers Finish High In AAU Meet

Eastern's wrestling Colonels, young and minus their regular coach, grappled their way to a 6-5-1 season record and made a good showing in the Kentucky State AAU Tournament at Louisville.

Skip Daugherty took over the squad when Coach Ron House was hospitalized in December, and capably guided the EKU team through the bulk of the season.

In the AAU Meet, Eastern wrestlers claimed two firsts, a second and a third. Dick Loewenstine (126 lb.) and Marvin Alstott (146 lb.) won their divisions with Alstott being named the Outstanding Wrestler in the tournament. Chris Reeder took second in the 180-pound division with Keith Carroll taking third in the heavyweight category.

Gymnasts Improve With New Facilities

With their new gym in the Begley Building, Eastern's gymnasts worked long hours daily improving form and skills. Coached by past team standout, Gene Gilbert, the 1971 team placed second in the Kentucky State Intercollegiate Gymnastics meet held at Georgetown College March 5.

Highpoint man for the year was Bill England averaging thirty-two points per meet.

Riflemen Women Face Rebuilding

The Eastern rifle team was in a rebuilding year with a roster composed mostly of freshmen. In addition, women's liberation penetrated the firing line as four EKU co-eds joined the ranks.

Seniors David Carpenter and Tony Gruelle and sophomore captain David McMillen provided the experience for the marksmen as the only returnees. Doug Wigfield was the only other senior. Representing the distaff side were Judy Deaton, Pamela Barker, Cathy Begley and Vera Wilson.

Competing in the rugged Ohio-Kentucky Collegiate Rifle League, the young Eastern Squad had matches well into spring and finished with a won-loss percentage around the .500 mark.

INTRAMURALS

New Facilities Broaden Intramurals

Mr. Wayne Jennings, the new director of men's intramurals, headed an expanded sports program this year. Along with the addition of the Begley Building facilities, the sports were increased both in number and participants. Intramurals counted 15 different activities, including flag football, tennis, basketball, volleyball, handball and weightlifting.

Champions of intramurals included: flag football, the PBR's; table tennis singles, Daryl Eisenmenger; basketball, Phi Delts; wrestling, Pikes; and billiards, Bobby Van Natta.

Competition was held in two leagues — independent and fraternity.

Women's Intramurals Marked By Variety

Numerous activities were scheduled throughout the year by women's intramurals director, Mrs. Mildred Maupin. Initiating the fall semester, tennis, field hockey and soccer were played by the co-eds. Volleyball, one of the most popular sports continued throughout the fall semester with the Jolly Volleys capturing the silver trophy. Basketball ushered in the spring semester with over 15 teams participating. Smaller activities, keyed to varied interests, finished the spring semester. Ping-pong, badminton, shuffleboard, and paddleball matched the variable skills of the girls and climaxed the intramural year.

New Constitution Reforms Senate

The first year under the new constitution was one of limited results and optimistic anticipation. With general failure to meet a quorum, the Student Senate was hampered in its attempts for reforms. The new constitution changed the name of the Student Council to Student Senate and formed a cabinet consisting of officers and committee chairmen.

The Senate, chaired by James Pratt, pushed for reforms on four main issues: abolishing mandatory ROTC, self-regulated hours for women students, more student participation on University committees, and abolishing required classroom attendance policies. The Senate was confident that reports of Student-Faculty committees, due late in the Spring, would recommend advances in each area.

Achievements for the Student Senate this year were moving Armed Forces recruiters from the Student Union Grill to the Jones Building and extension of the grill hours, on an experimental basis, until 11 p.m. every Monday through Thursday. Also, the Student Union dress code was abolished this year. Another action taken by the Senate was "operation snowfall," which led to an assurance that campus streets and sidewalks shall be safe and cleared in an onslaught of inclement weather.

Student Court Judges Cases

The Student Court, the judicial branch of the Student Association, heard cases relating to the constitution and by-laws of the Council involving infractions of the University regulations in areas designated by the association president. Traffic violations were the most frequent cases on the docket and were usually referred to the Department of Safety and Security.

Members of the Court are selected by the Student Association president or the Chief Justice of the Court from the previous year.

Veterans Provide Color Guard

This year, as in the past, Alpha Sigma Upsilon, the Veteran's Club, provided the color guard for the Eastern Homecoming. Other activities included sending Christmas cards to Vietnam, refinishing park benches for Richmond, and helping grade school teachers in the surrounding area.

The purpose and aim of the Veteran's Club is to ease the transition from military to collegiate life, and to promote fraternal spirit and fellowship among the ex-servicemen enrolled at Eastern.

Circle K Heads Float Building

During Homecoming week Circle K, which was in charge of the warehouse, sold refreshments to student float-workers. At Thanksgiving members canvassed homes in Richmond for food to make baskets for the needy. In the spring Circle K held an Easter egg hunt for Richmond children and worked at the Telford Community Center.

The objective of Circle K is to provide an opportunity for college men to help others and to be of service to society. Their motto, "We Build", means constructive involvement in the community and on campus.

Collegiate Democrats Increase Membership

Collegiate Democrat officers discuss plans for the upcoming gubernatorial election. Officers are Jimmy Brown, president; Bill Parker, treasurer; Mike Stokes, vice president; Mittie Davis, secretary; Herb Vescio, adviser.

The large increase in membership of the Collegiate Democrats brought about an expanding and more informative program this year. The Collegiate Democrats' purpose is to instill in every student the importance of politics in his respective life and a realization that as a citizen, one has an unique place in society.

As part of its program, six prospective candidates and officials were invited to speak at the meetings. These men acquainted the students with the prominent political issues today. During the spring a dinner was held to introduce the candidates for state offices and to allow an exchange of ideas and views between the candidates and students.

Meetings of the Collegiate Democrats show an increase in attendance this year.

"E" Men Assist At Home Games

Selling programs and ushering at all home football and basketball games were the primary functions of the Varsity "E" Club, which is composed of male athletes who have lettered in any of the intercollegiate sports at Eastern.

The club sponsored an All-Athletic Day for youngsters in the Richmond area. Each member instructed the children in the skills of his sport.

Members of the "E" Club who have contributed to the organization and remained in good standing for three years were awarded "E" rings which designate them as leaders in their particular sport.

KDT's Aid Locally

This year Kappa Delta Tau concentrated on community and national projects including a Valentine Party and toy drive for the Richmond Area Classroom Experience kindergarten, a fund raising drive with the Richmond Fire Department for Christmas presents to underprivileged children, a candle sale for the JFK Mentally Retarded Foundation, and a UNICEF drive on "Honey Sunday". The KDT's visited Pattie A. Clay Hospital and Kenwood Nursing Home, distributing cards on holidays.

On campus the group kept busy. Members sold tickets for the freshman-varsity benefit game, sponsored the annual Powder Puff football game and She-Male contest. Besides winning the football game, they won many events in the Sigma Chi Derby. Kappa Delta Tau served lunch on Band Day, worked the concession stands at Eastern's athletic events, and served for banquets in the SUB.

Men's Council Sponsors Polls

Men's Inter-dormitory Council membership, composed of the individual dormitory officers, floor counselors and elected representatives from each residence hall, sponsored a poll on dormitory open house. In February, the council tested the opinions of the men's residence halls on the type of food available through campus vending machines.

The Council met monthly to review general residence hall regulations and to propose ideas and work for the improvement of living conditions and study habits within the dorms.

Women's Halls Provide Billiards

The Women's Interdorm Council, made up of full-time students with a 2.0 point standing or better, purchased bumper pool tables and other recreational equipment for the women's residence halls. In cooperation with Miss Mary Glass, Director of Programs for Women, the Council coordinated recreational, educational, and intramural activities for women residents.

In November the Council sold tickets to the Varsity-Freshman basketball benefit to help secure funds for the Meditation Chapel.

The Council provided a medium of self-government for women residents and promoted better understanding between students and administration.

Although the bumper pool tables are located in women's dorms, male guests find them an added attraction.

Accounting, Marketing Clubs Hold Outings

This year Eastern's Accounting Club held study halls to help students with scholastic problems in accounting. The club sponsored several speakers and conducted field trips in an attempt to help members decide upon a specific area of accounting.

The purpose of the club is to acquaint accounting students with their future duties and obligations and to provide an opportunity for the discussion of topics relating to accounting.

The American Marketing Association heard executive experts in the marketing field at its monthly meetings. Speakers in the areas of product managing, advertising, industrial sales, retailing, and sales and promotion. A field trip to Cincinnati was scheduled to meet with marketing executives in their plants.

A membership drive resulted in a 20 per cent increase over last year's club rolls, with 25 active members participating. Organized in 1969, the group is affiliated with the American Marketing Association, headquartered in Chicago.

Home Ec Club Sends Packages

The Home Economics Club sponsored a fall style show, made Colonel Bunny Bean Bags, packed and distributed CARE packages during finals week. The club heard Mr. Richard Plymale speak at a program on population explosion, and participated in the fall and spring Kentucky Home Economics Association workshops.

The purpose of the Home Economics Club is to offer those interested in home economics a place for development and social enjoyment, while providing beneficial programs that help broaden views and interests.

Biology and Math Club Hear Speakers

A September get-acquainted picnic at Adams' Cave and a weekend outing at Natural Bridge State Park were among fall highlights of the Biology Club. Members served as guides for a Garden Club meeting and for the Conservation Fair, at which a project was exhibited. Representatives from federal agencies and the EKU faculty spoke at various meetings, and members sold tickets to the Audubon Film series. In the spring the members assisted with Earth Day.

This year the Math Club furthered its aim of increasing interest in mathematics and the benefits derived from its study by offering free tutoring to any student having difficulty in a math course. Teas were held throughout the year for members and math faculty. In the spring a picnic ended the year's activities.

Philosophy Club Sponsors Agora

The Philosophy Club organized a student forum on campus unrest as well as other forums during the year. Dr. Abraham Kaplan visited Easter in conjunction with the lecture series and the Philosophy Department. Among other projects, the club sponsored Agora, a local coffeehouse.

The aim of the Philosophy Club is to challenge and enlighten its members and the campus in general, through speakers and student forums.

SNEA Holds Panel Discussion

The Student National Education Association heard a panel of student teachers tell of their experiences in teaching and the SNEA adviser from Louisville explained how KEA meets the teacher's needs. SNEA participated in American Education Week, held several banquets and saw films throughout the year.

SNEA purports to improve education in general and increase the knowledge of future teachers. All members are required to be education majors working toward a teaching certificate.

Food And Nutrition Feature Speakers

Speakers were featured on such topics as cake decorating, water pollution, and dietetic internship at the monthly meetings of the Food and Nutritions Club. Representatives were sent to special meetings of the Blue Grass Dietetics Association. The club also worked with community centers in the Richmond area to provide classes in nutrition for different age groups.

HPER Hosts Foreign Speaker

Members of the Health, Physical Education, and Recreation Club distributed canned food to the needy from the float they sponsored for Homecoming.

The Club had a cookout in the spring for faculty and students. Dr. Czeslay Wielki, a European, spoke to the Club this spring about physical education in Europe.

The purpose of HPER is to provide service, guidance, and activity to students primarily majoring in the fields of health, physical education, and recreation.

Student Nurses Increase Membership

Excitement fills the air as this new member of the Student Nurses Association receives her cap.

In September Eastern's Association of Nursing Students held its first meeting to elect new officers and plan the year's activities. Later that month 104 new students received their caps in the first biannual capping ceremony. Kathy Waits, Eastern's representative, was fourth runnerup in the State Convention held in Louisville.

Discussions were held throughout the year on such topics as abortion, drug abuse and nursing in Appalachia. Representatives were sent to the National Convention in Dallas, Texas, during the spring. The year was brought to a close by the annual banquet held in April.

The organization's purpose is to provide a closer bond and more unified spirit among nursing students, to encourage understanding of and participation in the nursing student associations and professional nurse organizations and to aid in the development of the nursing student as an active participating member in the Commonwealth and the nation.

WRA Encourages Physical Activities

The Women's Recreation Association energetically began the fall semester with an October camping trip to Camp Otonka. The Mulebarn was the site of a November campfire. During Christmas the Women's Recreation Association went caroling and gave cookies to patients at hospitals, various nursing homes, and homes of aged shut-ins in the Richmond area. The remainder of the year was filled with sledding parties, camping trips, hikes, picnics, and athletic activities.

The purpose of the Women's Recreation Association is to encourage all women students to participate in organized physical, social, and recreational activities.

Catalina Club Hosts Aquatic Clinic

Catalina Club conducted a synchronized swim clinic in November inviting Pamela Wainscott, the Kentucky AAU Synchronized Swimming Chairman, to be director. Many new stunts were learned while old tricks were perfected.

After practicing their aquatic skills all winter and spring, Catalina members depicted the twelve zodiacs in their swim show "Sign of the Times."

Tryouts were held in the fall with club members choosing future members on the basis of synchronized swimming skills, interest, and experience.

Dance Theatre Offers Technique

Eastern's Modern Dance Theatre offered a technique class open to all University students to aid the development and participation in dance. Throughout the year they sponsored professional dance concerts on campus as well as performing at other schools.

New members were chosen in both the fall and spring by the old members on the basis of creativity, rhythm, and technique.

All costumes used by the group were designed especially for their productions. Among their performances were Halloween stories by Edgar Allen Poe staged in the ampitheater and a self-choreographed spring presentation.

Ensemble Cuts First Album

Highlighting the year for University Ensemble was the making of their first record album entitled "We've Come This Far By Faith." Through their musical talents, the group spread their religion and Black culture.

In addition to local high school tours, the group performed on college campuses in southern states. In the spring, University Ensemble developed, directed, and staged a concert entitled "Soul." In this production they traced the movement of soul music from its origination in the Civil War Era to the present.

Musical Groups Tour Kentucky

Directed by Dr. Bruce Hoagland, Eastern's Chamber Choir toured southern Kentucky this past year. They presented a variety of group sings ranging from Renaissance to contemporary music. Throughout the year they performed concerts on campus presenting serious music.

Symphonic Orchestra held its first Children's Concert this year under the direction of Mr. Roland Vamos. The orchestra performed three other concerts; one which featured applied musicians selected on the basis of competition. In collaboration with the University Chorus, the Symphonic Orchestra presented the annual performance of Handel's "Messiah".

With a new director, Mr. Earl Thomas, the Stage Band featured a jazz concert of original compositions. In conjunction with other musical groups the band toured the state.

Bands Prepare For Concerts

Concert Band and Symphonic Band rehearsed many hours to prepare for their individual concerts and tours. Each band performed at least two concerts on campus for the enjoyment of the students and the community.

These bands consisted primarily of music majors and minors; but anyone wishing to participate was welcomed.

University Theatre Stages Five Plays

The University Theatre, featuring the University Players, staged five major productions in Pearl Buchanan Theatre this year under the auspices of the Department of Drama and Speech.

Included in the year's productions was a special Children's Theatre presentation in April. The horror classic "Dracula" began the 1970-71 season, followed by "You Can't Take it With You," "John Brown's Body," the children's production, and "The Boy Friend."

A special feature of the season was the effort to secure authentic depression-era props and costumes for "You Can't Take it With You."

CG's Aid Freshmen During Orientation

The Counter Guerilla Raider Company began its year helping freshmen during orientation week and registration. They traveled to Fort Knox for a weekend of armor orientation. During the past school year they had two field training exercises a month in order to promote the ideals of company leadership and counter guerilla tactics.

The CGR's also aided the University in the flag-raising ceremony in the dedication of the new Begley Building.

Sponsors Boost Morale

During the fall each ROTC unit's advanced corp cadets elected unit sponsors to represent them.

The sponsors traveled to Ireland Army Hospital at Fort Knox to entertain the Vietnam Veterans. They also helped in the presentation of awards at Military Day and drilled at a basketball game during half time.

In the fall Barbara Harrison was elected as Queen Athena, and will serve as the Brigade Sponsor in 1971-72.

Pershing Rifles Titles

Pershing Rifle Company R-1 had an active year. The PR's welcomed freshmen, guided tours for parents, directed traffic, and helped during registration.

The company was the defending champion of both "The Best Company in the Battalion" and "The Best Company in the Regiment" among 21 competing universities.

Company R-1 attended the National Meet at Atlanta, Georgia, the Marshall University Meet at Huntington, West Virginia, and the Combined Regimental Meet at Cincinnati, Ohio.

GREEKS

Frats Hold Open Rush

Whether you've always wanted to become a Greek, or just decided after much careful thought, rush holds the same excitement and anticipation. This year Eastern's fraternities decided on an open rush lasting all semester. The first week was still characterized by rush parties with each of the 11 fraternities trying to out-impress rushees.

Open Bidding Follows Rush

Sororities chose formal rush this year, succeeded by two weeks of open bidding. Pledgeship followed teas and rush parties for both fraternities and sororities. The pledges had many projects, the most prevalent of which, the shoeshines, kept the campus in clean shoes. Some pledgeship activities, such as serving cake and punch to actives, were not as strenuous.

Intramurals Aid Brotherhood

Fraternity intramurals promoted involvement as well as brotherhood. With their brothers they shared the excitement and self-satisfaction of winning, and the despair of knowing that a little extra effort could have saved a defeat.

Greek Activity Varies

Greek activity was restricted to pledgeship activities and intramurals. All the members of each Greek organization joined together for their own projects. Brotherhood was increased not only by the meetings necessary to plan such activities but also by the activities themselves.

Greeks encompassed a wide range of activities. This year they revived such old contests as a dance marathon and a goldfish eating contest, while continuing such annual events as the Tau Kappa Epsilon Coffin Marathon.

Derby And Fair Promote Brotherhood

New events were also initiated this year. Sigma Chi held its first annual Derby Week, a national event at all Sigma Chi chapters, and Beta Omicron Gamma held its first County Fair. The competition of these events promoted brotherhood more than any other activity among brothers and sisters in the entire Greek system.

Greek Life Builds Lasting Brotherhood

All the things that came together to increase brotherhood were in themselves a lasting experience. Memories of rush, pledgeship, intramurals, goldfish-eating contests and county fairs are as strong as those of brothers and sisters. The activities of 1970-71 helped to strengthen the bonds of Greek life perhaps more than any other year. More emphasis was placed on doing things together than just becoming associated with the Greek system.

ADPi's Adopt Indian Child

This year the sisters of Alpha Delta Pi adopted an Indian child from a New Mexico tribe and participated in the annual Muscular Dystrophy drive with Kappa Alpha order on November sixth and seventh.

It was a winning year for the ADPi's with the Sigma Chi Derby, the Alpha Gamma Delta softball tournament, and window painting contest in "Spirit Week". The annual Nearly Wed Game was again held on Valentine's Day, and social activity was climaxed by the Spring Formal.

Alpha Delta Pi was established at Georgia Wesleyan in Macon, Georgia, in 1851, becoming the first secret society for women. Epsilon Phi Chapter was installed on Eastern's campus March 8, 1969.

Alpha Gam's Initiate Spirit Week

This year Alpha Gamma Delta began the year with a drive for the new Telford Community Center. A party for the crippled children of the Shriners Hospital in Lexington was held as well as a party for the underpriviledged children of Race Street in Richmond. The sisters also contributed to the national project of raising funds for grants to universities for work in minimal brain damage dysfunction. "Spirit Week" was initiated to help liven the spirit of the Eastern student body, and several mixers and parties were held.

Gamma Omicron chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta was installed at Eastern on October 28, 1968.

Chi Omega Holds Christmas Parties

Chi Omega held two Christmas parties for underprivileged children, one with the Pike pledges and one with DUs for the children in the GROWTH tutoring program. The sisters also worked at the Community Action Center every Saturday and collected canned food for needy Richmond families with Sigma Nu and Beta Theta Pi.

In November the sorority travelled to Gatlinburg for a retreat, and held the annual Parents Banquet. In December "Yuletide Week" featured a window painting contest, and the Holly Feast was held in Lexington.

The Chi Omegas won Greek Week and the Scholastic Trophy. Activity was ended in the spring by a swim meet and the annual Spring Formal held in Cincinnati.

Chi Omega was founded at the University of Arkansas on April 5, 1895. Gamma Theta Chapter was installed in May, 1969.

Deltas Active In Public Service

Delta Sigma Theta has been active in many community service projects. Prior to the opening of the Race Street Kindergarten, the building was cleaned up with the aid of the sisters. A "Toys for Tots" dance was sponsored, donating the proceeds to the kindergarten.

The sisters have participated in the GROWTH tutoring program, Richmond Day Care Center, "Open Concern" and the clothing bank. By way of the Christian Children's Fund, the sisters have adopted a war orphan.

Delta Sigma Theta national sorority was installed at EKU in the fall of 1970.

KD's Give Party For Crippled Children

A party at the Shriners Hospital in Lexington, given by the KD's contributed to the Kappa Delta national philanthropy of crippled children. The sisters also assisted in orientation week and aided fraternities with rush.

The KD's participated in the Sigma Chi Derby, Beta Omicron Gamma County Fair, Chi Omega Yuletide Week, Alpha Gamma Delta Spirit Week, and Greek Week. The annual Dating Game was held in the fall, and the pledges once again organized Smile Week.

Kappa Delta was established October 23, 1897 in Farmville, Virginia. Delta Omicron chapter became the first national sorority on Eastern's campus.

Kappa Phi Delta Sanctions Marathon

This year the Kappa Phi Delta's held their first annual dance marathon in which couples competed by doing required dances for specified periods of time. They also held a second annual all-Greek talent show.

The Kappa Phi's worked with the children in a newly formed kindergarten at the Telford Community Center, and sent packages to the American troops in Vietnam. The fund-raising drive was highlighted by selling EKU stuffed frogs.

Kappa Phi Delta local sorority was recognized on Eastern's campus in May of 1968.

BOG Holds County Fair

During October, Beta Omicron Gamma held its first county fair. The fair consisted of game booths and events for all organizations and trophies were awarded to the winners. A Miss County Fair Queen was chosen and a County Fair Dance was held to bring BOG's Fair to a close. Other events included a homecoming party, and a Christmas party. Athletically, BOG won the fraternity softball league and placed in various Greek tournaments.

Beta Omicron Gamma, local fraternity, was recognized on Eastern's campus on December 5, 1969.

Beta Theta Pi Installs AXA

Alpha Chi Alpha local fraternity, established on Eastern's campus May 5, 1969, became a colony of Beta Theta Pi national fraternity, August 5, 1970.

The Beta's began the year by giving a Halloween Party for the children at the Shriner's Hospital in Lexington. The pledges brought the children candy, apples, and assorted gifts. The brothers also joined with Sigma Nu and Chi Omega in collecting canned food, clothing, and money, and distributing it in packages to over twenty needy families in the Richmond area.

Social activities included a homecoming party, a Christmas party, and were ended by the spring formal.

DU's Attain National Status

The high point of this year was the installation of the local colony November 14 as a chapter of Delta Upsilon International Fraternity. Also this year, the DU calendar contained such activities as a swim party, a pinnacle cookout, and the annual Bicycle Race in which Greek organizations, campus clubs, and faculty members participated. The event featured a four-hour marathon in addition to a number of individual categories. The brothers also co-sponsored a Christmas party with Chi Omega sorority for the underprivileged children of Richmond.

Delta Upsilon took first place honors in IFC sponsored Greek-Week activities, flag football, basketball, and crosscountry track competition. First place was also achieved by the DU's in the TKE Bowling Tournaments.

KA's Participate In Fund Drives

This year Kappa Alpha order participated in a Muscular Dystrophy drive with Alpha Delta Pi Sorority on November sixth and seventh. Also in November the KA's sold tickets for the Varsity-Freshman basketball game in which all proceeds went to the chapel fund, as well as increasing their original $500 pledge by one hundred dollars.

The brothers held a Homecoming party in October and a Christmas dance in December. The annual Convivium was held again this year on January 19th to celebrate the birthday of Robert E. Lee, spiritual founder of Kappa Alpha Order. Activity was climaxed again this spring by Old South Week, started off by a parade, including a week of events, the Sharecroppers Ball, and highlighted by the Old South Ball.

Kappa Alpha Order was established in 1865 and Delta Mu Chapter was installed at Eastern on February 15, 1969.

Phi Deltas Win Float Competition

Phi Delta Theta began the year by winning the Homecoming float competition. Their float was presented in the Homecoming parade and Phi Delts were pronounced victorious during the Homecoming football game. Later in the year the brothers joined with Alpha Gamma Delta sorority in a canned food drive for needy people of Richmond, and a Visitation Day was held at Kentucky Village to help prevent juvenile delinquency.

Spring activity was highlighted by the annual Spring Softball Tournament in which fraternities vie against each other for a trophy.

Kentucky Theta Chapter of Phi Delta Theta was installed on Eastern's campus during April 25 and 26 or 1969. The national fraternity was founded at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio on December 26, 1848.

Pike's Give "Most Valuable" Trophy

Zeta Tau Chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity was chartered in February, 1969 from the local Alpha Kappa Pi, becoming the first national fraternity at EKU. This year, Pikes also became the first to present a "Most Valuable Player" trophy at the Homecoming football game. This award was given to quarterback Bob Fricker for the 1970 season.

The brothers offered assistance to new freshmen at an information booth, set up during orientation week, and they also invited the underprivileged children of Richmond to a home basketball game. Social activity was highlighted by such annual events as the Dream Girl Ball, Parents Day Banquet, and Hell's Angel Party.

In the spring the Pikes held an invitational bowling tournament for the fraternities and initiated "Pikes Peak Week." A week of games and events was climaxed by a Pinnacle climbing contest with a trophy awarded to the fraternity or sorority with the most points.

Sigma Chi Initiates Derby

This fall Sigma Chi began Greek activity on campus by having their first annual Sigma Chi Derby Weekend. Several of the brothers acted as coaches for the sororities who competed for honors in a parade, selection of a queen, and other events. The points were totaled and Alpha Delta Pi was awarded the trophy as this year's winner. Other events were a Sweetheart Ball in September, the Homecoming weekend in October, and a Christmas Ball in December. Social activity was climaxed in the Spring by the annual Spring Banquet weekend held in Clifty Falls, Indiana.

A "Watermelon Bust" highlighted the fund raising drive for Sigma Chi's national project, Wallace Village, a home for children with minimal brain damage. Athletically Sigma Chi has been Intramural All-Sports Champion for three years. Eta Alpha Chapter of Sigma Chi was founded in 1855 at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. Eta Alpha Chapter of Sigma Chi was initiated on January 11, 1970.

Sigma Nu's Carry Ball To Western

To help promote school spirit, the brothers of Sigma Nu each rode a bicycle five miles in carrying the game ball to Bowling Green. The football was presented to Sigma Nu at pep rally at Hanger Field where it was then carried to Western Kentucky University and presented to Coach Kidd.

Sigma Nu again held an Ugly Man contest this fall, in which each fraternity and sorority entered their costumed candidates. Another annual fall event, the Powder Puff Football Game, was held between Kappa Delta Tau and Alpha Gamma Delta. Sigma Nu once again participated in the annual Hanging of the Greens in the Student Union Building this Christmas.

Several civic action projects were held including a Christmas party for the underpriviledged children of Richmond, aiding in the Jaycees' Honey Day, cleaning the court house in Richmond and a canned food drive for Thanksgiving.

TKE

Tekes Active In Public Service

This year the brothers took the children from Model Laboratory School's Child Development Center to the Band Day parade and football game. TKE also worked in the cleaning and redecorating of the Race Street Community Center.

Tau Kappa Epsilon earned the honor or ranking third scholastically among Eastern fraternities as well as winning the originality award in the homecoming float competition for the second year in a row. Other activities included a Homecoming Tea for alumni and parents, the annual Invitational Basketball Tournaments, selling candles made by the brothers for Christmas, and the annual Academic Bowl. Social activity was ended in the spring by the Red Carnation Ball, held in honor of the chapter sweetheart.

Mu Beta Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon was chartered at Eastern on February 15, 1968.

Omegas Go National

Delta Sigma Chapter of Omega Psi Phi was installed at Eastern May 8, 1970 from Omega Phi Psi local fraternity. The Omegas held a Christmas party for the underpriviledged children of the Richmond area. The brothers gave gifts and candy to the children who otherwise would not have had a Christmas, and also tried to provide the true Christmas spirit and meaning. The Omegas also sponsored a dance the night before the homecoming football game.

Wesley Foundation Sponsors Classes

Established on Eastern's campus for the purpose of maintaining a Methodist ministry to the total campus community, the Wesley Foundation attempted to provide a well-balanced program. As a group they utilized recreational facilities for get togethers on Friday and Saturday nights, fellowship opportunities both social and spiritual, and educational growth by the promotion of academic standards. Wesley Foundation held college classes in religion at their center, weekly dinners with special interest programs, Wednesday Fellowship Hour, and a married couples fellowship.

Members relax at a weekly social hour.

Baptist Students Form Choir

Members of the Baptist Student Union joined together as a choir this year. As a group they toured various Kentucky Baptist churches presenting their program, "Tell it Like it Is". In April the choir sang a variety of selections at the Richmond First Baptist Church.

BSU met twice-a-week for vespers followed by a question-and-answer session covering any subject. Members attended different mission conferences and sponsored a weekly special Baptist Young Women group. Every Friday night a coffeehouse was held at the center for all students.

FCA Sponsors Area Youth Rally

Highlighting the year for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes was an Eastern-Richmond Youth Rally with different denominational ministers and special guests from all over the nation. During the year members took underprivileged children to basketball games and then to the Methodist Student Center for devotionals. The athletes were ushers for "Hanging of the Greens" during December. Later they sponsored a "Sports Day" for surrounding school children in conjunction with E-Club. This past year the group sent delegates to work closely with the Richmond Ministerial Society in coordinating themes and objectives for their activities.

President Edward King discusses possibilities of guests and tentative plans for the upcoming April Youth Rally with committee members.

Westminster Fellowship, an organization for college students of the First Presbyterian Church, goal was to unite the campus with Richmond. On Sunday evenings the group had dinner at the church, followed by a program with speakers.

Other activities included a traditional Thanksgiving dinner for campus foreign students, fall and spring retreats, Christmas caroling party, tutoring with GROWTH, and a "Happy Spring" picnic for the orphanage.

Members were encouraged to take an active part in church life by singing in the choir, serving on committees, and preparing worship services.

CSF Attends Two Conventions

Operating as a non-denominational organization, the Christian Student Fellowship attempted to promote fellowship in the community and to fulfill the spiritual needs of students on Eastern's campus. This year the CSF attended two Christian conventions, visited various churches, and held a fellowship party on campus to stimulate interest in the group. Members hosted a Thanksgiving supper for the University of Kentucky chapter at the Mulebarn.

CSF members hold weekly open panel discussions where all voice feelings on religion, news, or any desired topic.

Highlight of the year for the Newman Club was the acquisition of their house on Oak Street. Much time and effort was spent preparing this house for use for meetings and a weekly Mass.

Newman Club sought to implant religion in students' lives through active participation in Folk Masses and sponsoring a coffee and roll hour after the Mass. The group held their annual Mardi Gras dance and springtime camping trip. This year the members sold student discount cards; the proceeds were given to local charities.

Reverend Charles Blakemore of the First Christian Church, as Richmond's other ministers, is always ready to talk to students and welcome them at services.

AURORA Honored By Commission

The Kentucky Arts Commission Award for the College Division went to Eastern's literary magazine, AURORA, for the quality of its material. The award consisted of a cash prize, fifty dollars of which was awarded to students with articles featured in the 1971 AURORA.

The AURORA is published with the purpose of giving talented students a chance to write for publication, and to provide for the student body and faculty an example of what is being done on campus in the vein of creative endeavors in the form of poems and short stories. Final selections for the magazine were made by the editors, although the staff worked closely with faculty advisers, who read and commented on the submitted manuscripts.

Progress Regroups A Young Staff

Successor to two consecutive All-American ratings, THE EASTERN PROGRESS attempted to continue the pace set by the previous editors although lacking the experience and depth which characterized the preceding staffs.

Hit hard by graduation, the 1970-71 PROGRESS editorial staff included but one senior. Sonja Foley, a Columbia junior, assumed the guidance of the inexperienced underclassmen. Junior Mike Park, the only seasoned veteran, finished his third year as business manager while Julia Williams, also a junior, moved up to news editor.

In addition to the normal yearly activities, major features in the '70-71 PROGRESS included "On The Arts" column by Ken Green, a campaign to help complete the Meditation Chapel drive, and a special supplement, "Toward a Vision," President Martin's 10-year report which highlighted Eastern's growth over the past decade.

Photographers Strive For Quality

A great amount of skill and patience was required to take and process the thousands of pictures required to effectively capture Eastern's many moods and activities for the 1971 MILESTONE. In a concerted drive for quality, the work is multiplied, for it is sometimes necessary to take a half dozen or more shots to get the right one for publication.

Directing Eastern's photographic activities, which also includes providing pictures for official University news and publication purposes and for the EASTERN PROGRESS, was Mr. Schley Cox, University Photographer. Mr. Cox was aided by four student assistants, who voluntarily covered a variety of assignments which ranged from the formal posed pictures to candid shots of daily campus activity.

Milestone Reaps All-American

The 1971 MILESTONE staff, following last year's All-American volume, sought to develop a theme of "commitment" while continuing a tradition of excellence established by previous editors.

The All-American certificate awarded the 1970 MILESTONE was the fourth time in five years that the Associated Collegiate Press had bestowed its top award on the EKU yearbook.

Expansion of the student life and academic sections resulted in a larger MILESTONE aimed at even more comprehensive coverage this year. Among the most noticeable bonuses added to the 1971 edition was a silk bookmark, intended to facilitate reader reference. Another improvement was the adoption of a higher grade of enamel paper stock to enhance reproduction of both color and black and white photographs.

Printing the MILESTONE for the first time was the Delmar Publishing Company, Charlotte, North Carolina, best of ten competitive bidders.

Seniors Elect Blythe; Plan For Futures

EKU's Class of 1971 began its final year with the election of Robert Blythe, Richmond math major, as class president. One of the class's other major activities was the Mr. and Miss Popularity race conducted early in the second semester.

The year saw most of the class making preparation for the immediate future. Student teaching, interviews in the placement office, and the filing of applications for graduate school occupied seniors' time during the year.

Juniors Take Election Initiative

Looking to a new year the Class of '72 was the first class to hold its own elections in an attempt to create more interest. This was successful as other classes soon followed suit by holding their elections.

Under the leadership of its president, Art Cassil, the class built a float for Homecoming, contributed to the Century Fund, and sponsored the Prom and Prom Concert in the spring.

Greenhouse production students learn proper techniques.

Sophomores Become More Involved

One year of college life finished, EKU's sophomores were prepared for a year of full involvement. Whether involved in student organizations or with a more concrete circle of friends, sophomores were more ready for the college experience — including classes — than they had been a year earlier.

Feeling their feet just touching the ground, sophomores reached the mid-point of their undergraduate careers with the end of the year.

In their major activity of the year, the sophomores elected Tyler D. Cox as class president.

Freshmen Anticipate Coming Years

The class of '74 began its college career with eager anticipation of the four years to come. An experiment in living instilled a deeper appreciation of their fellow students.

Many new friends and adjustments were made through various activities. Orientation Week, meeting with advisors, and that hectic first registration initiated freshmen to campus life.

"There is a Reaper, whose name is Death,
    And, with his sickle keen,
He reaps the bearded grain at a breath,
    And the flowers that grow between."

Editor's Note

Finally, the year of 1971 has been recorded on the 616 pages of the MILESTONE and it is my sincere hope that it will be cherished by each of its 8,000 holders as both a reference book and a history of the year at Eastern.

It was a long hard grind that I could never have finished without the help of many people. I could not possibly mention everyone who had a hand in the completion of this book, but there are a few people I must mention here. There are two that I could always depend on being here hard at work, Susie Boston and Bill Sawyer, who worked on nearly every section of the book. As the final deadlines came nearer, my managing editor, Paula McCann, took over many sections that were not getting done. Thanks are also due to my section editors and staff members who realized their responsibilities and sacrificed their time for the MILESTONE. I can never repay Don Feltner, my adviser, and Doug Whitlock, my brother, for their guidance and direction, without which there would not have been a 1971 MILESTONE.

A very special thanks is due Schley Cox, who was responsible for nearly all the beautiful color photography and much of the black and white. I also must thank a long list of student photographers including Larry Bailey, Sam Lynn, Marianne Rose, Patsy Gross, Dennis Scarbrough, Mike Hack, In Sung Chung, Jim Shepherd, John Branson and Doug Droz. Billy Davis III, director of photography at the Courier-Journal, was responsible for the campus aerial on pages 24-25.

I also thank the fine people at Delmar Printing Company, Ron Wempe, Bob Anderson, Wayne Wolfe, Sybil Parrish, Emma Thomas and Ralph Van Dyke for their services and cooperation. Thanks also to John Mullaney, Steve May, Betty Megerle and the late Larry Kneipfle of Osborne Photographic Laboratories, Inc. for portraits and group pictures and service given the MILESTONE.

Specifications

The 1971 MILESTONE was prepared by the students of Eastern Kentucky University and printed by offset lithography by Delmar Printing Company, Charlotte, North Carolina.

All 616 pages are printed on 80-pound Meads Black and White enamel stock. The endsheets are 65-pound cover-weight Hammermill Sienna Bronze.

The cover is composed of Brown Cordoba base with gold metalay and other elements blind embossed with a black rub over the entire cover.

Body copy for the opening 25 pages is Optima, 14 point with 2-point leading; for the remainder of the book News Gothic, 12 point with 2 point leading is used. Cutlines are 8 point News Gothic. Senior listings are News Gothic, 10 point and underclasses are 8 point. Headlines are News Gothic 30 point.

Various special effects are used in several sections of the MILESTONE in an effort to achieve maximum reader appeal. A combination of posterization and wavy line conversion printed in black and PMS 207 brown inks are used on major divisional pages. Subdivisional pages are one-color posterizations printed in two tones (100 and 30 per cent) of black.

Other special effects were achieved through the use of a 50mm-300mm Auto Nikkor zoom lens, double exposures, panning with the subject and other photographic techniques.

Cameras used to photograph activity pictures, both four-color and black-and-white included: Nikon (35mm), Leica (35mm), Pentax (35mm), Minolta (35mm), Nikkormat (35mm), Rolleiflex (2¼ x 2¼), Mamiyaflex (2¼ x 2¼), Yashicamat 124 (2¼ x 2¼), Linhof (2¼ x 2¾) and Speed Graphic (4 x 5). Lens focal lengths used ranged from wide angle, 21mm, to mirror telephoto, 500mm. Senior and underclass portraits were photographed with a Beatie Portronic Camera, 70mm, using dual Speedotron strobe lights, by Osborne Photographic Laboratories, Cincinnati.

Press run was 8,000 copies.
